The Bulletin

Norwich, Wednesday, Aug. 3, 1910.

VARIOUS MATTERS

There was a thick fog early Tuesday morning.

Lawns and fields were freshened by the gentle rain.

Hydrangea hedges about town are coming into bloom.

Native honey and native peaches are coming into market.

Ocean Beach day will attract many visitors from Norwich.

From August 3 to 5 Horace Johnson predicts precipitation, probably accompanied by hail.

Repairs and renovations to the school houses remind the small boy that half of vacation is over.

The thunder early Tuesday morning caused postponement of several outings planned for the day.

Yesterday morning's rain did not last long enough to please the farmers, but all that fell was appreciated.

The famous Bill dinner at Ledyard is to be held on the church and library green the last Wednesday in August.

It is claimed that four-leaf clovers are scarcer than usual this season, few being found before the first of August.

Next Saturday being the festival of the transfiguration there will be special services in the Episcopal churches.

Local people have been, at Pine Grove, Niantic, to attend the lectures at J. C. Colville at the Spiritualists' camp.

The annual meeting of the Connecticut Sunday School Union is to be held in Middletown during the first week in November.

In St. Patrick's church Tuesday morning Rev. Hugh Treanor celebrated an anniversary requiem high mass for James W. Carroll.

Patriotic organizations recalled the fact that on August 2, 1777, the Stars and Stripes were raised for the first time at Fort Stanwix, Rome, N. Y.

Austin McGarry and Miss Hannah Murphy will be married at St. Joseph's church on Monday, August 8, by the Rev. W. C. Fitzsimons—New London Telegraph.

The Connecticut milk producers' disagreement with the Boston Dairy company is being duplicated in Vermont, where a strike is threatened unless prices for milk increase from 23 to 25 cents per can.

The Voter claims that the badge introduced by Ernest Allison Smith of Norwich at the state prohibition convention at Meriden, was the first state badge every used at a prohibition convention.

Joseph Williams, Jr. of Ledyard Center, badly injured by a fall and in an unconscious condition six days, has been taken to his home from Backus hospital, and is slowly recovering. His injury was at the base of the brain.

Violent deaths in the state during July were two less than 100, and the highest total in several months. Of this number 79 were accidental, 13 suicides and six homicides. Drowning was the accidental list with 35 victims.

In the Roman Catholic churches devotions have been held in recognition of the seventh centenary of the foundation of the Friars Minor, Pope Pius X. having issued a special decree upon the event. The devotions commenced at 7 o'clock Sunday and continued till sunset on Tuesday.

There is local interest in the announcement by New London papers that Recorder Charles B. Douglas of Sprague lodge, A. O. U. W., has paid Mrs. Kate C. Sugrue, widow of Timothy T. Sugrue, a check for $1,700, that amount being due for insurance carried by Mr. Sugrue in the order.

Col. Eugene T. Kirkland, treasurer of the Pequot Casino association, has forwarded to Chief Stanners of New London a check for $100 in appreciation of the hard work of the firemen at the burning of the Casino on Wednesday afternoon. The money will be divided among the various companies.

It is announced by the passenger department of the New Haven railroad that the Sunday service of the Knickerbocker Limited between New York and Boston has been discontinued for the present. Now that the summer resort season is at its height travel between these points on Sunday is very light.

By the new money order arrangement, the "advice," or carbon copy of the order sent by the issuing postmaster to the paying office, for purposes of identification, will be discontinued, thereby resulting in a great saving of time and expense. Identification of the money order will be required, being an indispensable part of the system.

Repairs at Y. M. C. A. Building.
Alterations and improvements at the Y. M. C. A. building are under way that will put the building in fine shape for the coming of the fall work. The addition of a hallway on the third floor, the large rooms formerly built for class rooms have been made available for dormitory use. The dormitories on the top floor are all to be repaired. One necessary improvement has been a new chimney to replace the old chimney of cement pipe which ran up the outside of the building. A new tile chimney, bricked in, has been built near the Church street entrance, and has been shifted to run inside the building. The new chimney also made it necessary to shift some of the plumbing.

STURGEON OCEAN BEACH PAVILION
Lightning Burned Out Fuses and Lights—Three Men Dazed by Electric Current.

Considerable excitement was created at Ocean beach Tuesday noon, and especially among the crowd of pleasure seekers who had taken refuge from the driving rain inside of Clifford's Ocean beach pavilion, when an electric light wire inside the pavilion was struck by lightning. The lightning jumped from the wire into the building, where it blew out the fuse and damaged a cluster of electric lights in the center of the room. Patrick J. Clifford, the proprietor, and two clerks, John Daly, Jr. and Lawrence J. McGinley, were dazed by the shock, but when they recovered their senses they looked around and were gratified to find that the damage done was not of serious importance.

A telephone message concerning what had happened was sent up to New London, and when Motorman Thomas McHugh came to Norwich on the 1.15 trolley, he brought orders for Harry Nooney, foreman of the Connecticut trolley, to come to Ocean beach and repair the damage. Everything was restored to perfect condition from the state of confusion in the afternoon.

For Norwich and Colchester Road.
The Hartford Business Men's association sent out on Tuesday a circular appeal for stock subscriptions for the Norwich and Colchester trolley road. The circular states that Norwich and the people along the line have raised $200,000 from the sale of stock, and asks the Hartford people to help.

Light Fines for Salem Hebrews.

Six Accused of Assaulting Deputy Sheriff Tubbs Pay $26 and Costs—All Afternoon Hearing in Salem Town House—Big Crowd Attends.

The four Hebrew residents of Salem, with two summer boarders from New York who took part in an assault on Deputy Sheriff J. H. Tubbs last week, had their cases tried Tuesday before Justice of the Peace Charles A. Williams of Salem. Court was held in the Salem town house, which was packed to the doors, as the whole countryside turned out for the court proceedings.

The defense presented no witnesses other than the accused. The attorneys for the state argued that the resistance to the officer constituted a misdemeanor for which the accused should be bound over for trial. After hearing the evidence and the arguments of counsel, Judge Williams decided there were extenuating circumstances in the case which warranted a fine instead of a trial. He imposed the following fines: $26 and costs on each of the accused, and $10 on each of the two boarders.

The prosecution presented as witnesses Deputy Sheriff Tubbs, David Akers, who was with him at the time, and a man named Gardner. They told the court that the accused, who went to the Akers place, now conducted by Kaiman Berman, to place an attachment on a portable sawmill. The attachment was in favor of David Akers.

The defense presented no witnesses other than the accused. The attorneys for the state argued that the resistance to the officer constituted a misdemeanor for which the accused should be bound over for trial. After hearing the evidence and the arguments of counsel, Judge Williams decided there were extenuating circumstances in the case which warranted a fine instead of a trial. He imposed the following fines: $26 and costs on each of the accused, and $10 on each of the two boarders.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaiman Berman, Louis Berman and Rebecca Falk, all of Salem, Morris Berman and Aaron Klein, all of New York, were present in a civil process containing two counts, charging breach of the peace and resisting an officer in the execution of his duty. The case was argued by attorneys Lucius Brown and Allyn L. Brown of this city and a New York attorney named Morris. Hadid Hall, Jr., son of State Attorney Hull, prosecuted for the state, assisted by Attorney Warren Burrows.

INVITED TO BOSTON PARADE OF TOTAL ABSTAINERS
St. Mary's T. A. and B. Society Receives Circular—New Sergeant at Arms Elected.

St. Mary's T. A. and B. society held its regular meeting in T. A. hall on Tuesday evening with President Lewis A. Connor in the chair and a good number of members present. In the place of Sergeant at Arms Bartholomew Smith, who resigned, there was elected by ballot William McGuinness, Felix Callahan and John Donahue.

The society has received a circular from the Catholic Total Abstinence union of the archdiocese of Boston setting forth the plans of the big parade of total abstinents in Boston on Wednesday evening, August 10, at 7:30 o'clock. Paraders, unless in uniform, are requested to wear straw hats, and if possible, to wear a badge.

There will be five divisions in the parade, the number of paraders in line not uniform, is what is desired. There will be a grand march, and the parade will be headed by the board of government of the archdiocese of Boston, the present and past national officers, the executive council and the delegates to the convention. The other divisions are: Second, T. A. B. regiment of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; third, the order of organizations in line in accordance with distance traveled; fourth, societies of the Essex county; fifth, societies in order of date of organization; Archbishop W. H. O'Connell will review the parade.

REPLY TO MR. COMSTOCK.
State Business Men's Association Defines Its Position on Public Utilities Bill.

In a letter to Chairman C. W. Comstock of the democratic state central committee, Norwich, dated Tuesday, Mr. Hays, chairman of the legislative committee of the State Business Men's association, has defined the position of the association on the public utilities bill, which he asked if the association would support the democratic candidate for governor.

Dear Sir:—The State Business Men's association, as an association, cannot pledge its support to any party or to any candidate, but it is merely conducting a campaign of education in the hope of awakening the public to the need of a permanent commission with adequate powers for the efficient regulation of public service corporations.

The request which has been made of the republican party; and it is our hope that the party will see fit to include the plank in its platform, as requested. As you have no doubt observed, this bill does not commit the party to the bill which has been carefully prepared by the State Business Men's association, but merely to the general principle of efficient regulation of public service corporations by means of a commission clothed with the necessary powers.

The State Business Men's association is not a political machine, and is not seeking to carry on a political campaign, but merely a campaign of education and enlightenment. It does not, and cannot, pledge the votes of its members to any particular party or candidate, but it hopes to be able to inform its members and the entire electorate as to the attitude of parties and of candidates toward the question of efficient regulation of public service corporations.

Hoping that I have made the position of the association clear, and that you will be able to conscientiously comply with the request outlined in my letter of the 26th ult., I am, Yours very truly,
NORMAN F. ALLEN.

PRESTON CITY SUNDAY SCHOOL
Enjoys Pleasant Day's Outing at Ocean Beach.

In spite of the unsettled weather conditions that prevailed early Tuesday morning, there were about eighty from Preston who went to Ocean Beach to attend the annual outing of the Preston City Congregational church Sunday school. The main body of the party arrived in Norwich early, and there were about sixty on the special car that had been chartered for the occasion, which left Franklin square at 8:15 o'clock. The remaining members of the school, who were on the day, a basket lunch was served at midday and a good time was enjoyed by everyone, sea bathing in the afternoon being the main feature of the day's programme. The heavy rain of the morning, with the effects of the lightning which struck Clifford's Ocean Beach pavilion, served to dampen the enthusiasm of the pleasure seekers for a time, but this was not the case when the party arrived in Norwich on the 8:30 trolley, all expressed themselves as having experienced a fine time.

Waiting Extradition for Hall.
Owing to the fact that he has been remanded in Boston until Aug. 5, John H. Hall, charged with kidnaping, is held in custody under false pretences from New London women, was not arraigned in the Boston court on Tuesday morning as expected. Hall is held in Boston under $10,000 bail awaiting the presentation of his extradition papers from Governor Weeks of this state.
